

Path

Path, design Dorigo Design, est le système innovant de canapés modulables composé de quatre éléments : droit, convexe et concave. Associés entre eux, ils permettent de donner naissance à une infinité de compositions, pour aménager librement, de manière créative et originale, n'importe quel type d'espace. La structure interne en acier est dotée de ressorts et de sangles élastiques qui garantissent confort et résistance. Les revêtements sont proposés en cuir, éco-cuir ou textile, dans une vaste palette de couleurs.
